A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains and misery by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is fading away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—Mrs. Florence Danforth, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—For years I was troubled with falling of the womb, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, bearingdown pains, backache, headache, dizzy and fainting spells, and stomach trouble.

"I doctored for about five years but did not seem to improve. I began the use of your medicine, and have taken seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, three of Blood Purifier, and also used the Sanative Wash and Liver Pills, and am now enjoying good health, and have gained in flesh.

I thank you very much for what you have done for me, and heartily recommend your medicine to all suffering women."—Miss Emma Snyder, 218 East Center St., Marion, Ohio.

"FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN." Women would save time and much sickness if they would write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice as soon as any distressing symptoms appear. It is free, and has put thousands of women on the right road to recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence thus entrusted to her, and although she publishes thousands of testimonials from women who have been benefited by her advice and medicine, never in all her experience has she published such a letter without the full consent, and often by special request of the writer.

SAVES LIFE OF HORSE.

Fifteen-Year-Old Girl of New York City Performs a Daring and Remarkable Deed.

Fifteen-year-old Elizabeth McCourt, who works all day for a dressmaker and goes every evening to night school, stopped a runaway horse in New York city the other night from getting into the mouth of the New York Cartes! York Central's Park avenue tunnel. Elizabeth was going through Fiftieth street, when, as she reached Park avenue, she saw a big bay horse running down the east side of the avenue, dragging an undertaker's wag on after him. There was no driver on the seat. The girl saw that the big iron gate in the Adams Express company's yards at the mouth of the tunnel was wide open. She said later

She turned the horse over to Gatein a hurry and then went to the night

STRIKES ARE HELPFUL.

Bishop Potter, of New York, Declares in Favor of Labor Organizations and Their Methods.

Bishop Henry C. Potter addressed a meeting of the Grace chapel men's club on "Lessons of the Coal Strike," in the chapel in East Thirteenth street, New York city, the other night. He said that he believed in strikes and labor organizations, but warned the latter not to abuse their power by interfering with the peronal freedom of anyone. Said the op in part:

"I believe in strikes, shocking as that may sound to you. I also be-lieve in the conservative value of organizations from which strikes come ocking as that may also sound to you. I believe that you cannot build up a great state any more than you can build up a great industry without organization at both ends.

THE BAND CUT ICE.

Cold to Make Music, and They Wanted to Be Set to Work at Once.

One winter when the First United States cavalry was stationed in Montana the bandmaster went to the commander of the post, Gen. Chwier Grover, and reported that the members of the band had been ordered to help out ice, relates the Detroit Free Press. He said: "Sheneral, they did not enlist us to eut toe, but to make moosie." The commanding officer catled the adjutant and on his approach said: "Wr. Adjutant, Mr. Schmidt wishes the band excused from ice fatigue; he says they enlisted to make moosie." Mr. Schmidt, bowing to the commanding officer, said: "Yes, sheneral, to make moosie." The commanding officer ten said: "Mr. Adjutant, the band will be excused from ice fatigue. Mr. Schmidt bowed himself out, saying: "Thank you, sheneral; thank you, sheneral." "But, continued the commanding officer, as the door closed. "Mr. Adjutant, the band will take post on the bluff overlooking the river and will make music while the test of the sommand ent ice." The weather was increally cold, and as matter of corpret it was impossible for the players to make a sound, their herathing freezing on their instruments. The landmaster again huried to the commanding officer and said: "Sheneral, it is impossible to make a noosie; the band would rather cut ice." Very well, Mr. Schmidt, just as you wish; ephed the commanding officer, and, calling the adjutant, he said: "Mr. Adjutant, he band will cut ice."

George Thought He Was Doing His

A young man in a cricket shirt and straw hat was wheeling a baby carriage backward and forward along the pavement in front of a small house in Westgateon-Sea.

The hot afternoon sun poured pittlessly dewn upon him, and he was angry as any man in the neighborhood, relates the Manchester Guardian.

"My. dear," came a voice from the upper window of the house.

"Let me alone, can't you?" he shricked back, and went on wheeling and mopping his face.

An hour later the same voice came from the window in carnest, pleading tones: "George, dear."

"Well, what on carth do you want?" he shouted. "Have the water pipes purst?" "You George dear." wailed the voice.
